

Plausible ensemble member?

Take away?

- Precision can be reduced below single...
- ...but not all fields/computations to half-precision.
- We can learn something about the uncertainties/inaccuracies in our models (high at small lengthscales).
- Doing this job completely will take man-hours, but save computer costs (or allow higher resolutions). Overall savings?